48 Years of Tradition
48th Annual Utah All-State High School Art Show
The Annual Utah All-State High School Art Show was established by the Springville Museum of Art to honor the best high school artists in the state for their talent, creativity, and dedication. Since 1971, the show has served to educate youth and prepare students for professional roles. The show encourages young artists by providing a forum for their work, awarding outstanding talent and creativity, and fostering involvement in the arts. The exhibition is also a tribute to the dedication of professional art teachers throughout the state of Utah. We thank them for their tireless efforts.

Unique in both scope and stature, the Utah All-State High School Art Show is one of the largest exhibitions of its kind in the nation. This year 1,093 works from 105 schools were entered. Of these entries, 340 were selected for display in the exhibition.

Works are judged both on technical quality and conceptual design by a panel of art professionals. Those works selected for Jurors’ Awards represent the most skillfully executed and original pieces submitted. Congressional Awards are intended to represent life throughout Utah and demonstrate the quality of work being done across the state. These awards are selected by Utah Congressional representatives. In an effort to focus on the process of creation, students are encouraged to include source images, sketches, and artist statements about their work.

We are grateful to the many partners and sponsors who contribute to the exhibition and provide additional opportunities for these student artists. All school programs at the Springville Museum of Art are made possible with support from the Utah State Legislature through Professional Outreach Programs in the Schools (POPS), in partnership with the Utah State Board of Education. In addition, each year the Governor’s Office, the Utah State House of Representatives, and the Utah State Senate honor award-winning artists on Capitol Hill, and the Governor has declared the month of March as “Utah Youth Art Month.”

In addition, one work is selected from each of Utah’s Congressional Districts to hang in a national show at the Capitol Building in Washington, DC; Southwest Airlines generously provides airfare for these Congressional Award winners to attend the opening ceremonies of the art exhibit featuring their work in the nation’s capitol.

The David O. McKay School of Education at Brigham Young University selects works to be displayed on BYU campus. Other special awards and scholarships are given to Utah’s art students. Finally, the Utah Division of Arts and Museums is a long-standing partner of this exhibition, as works are selected to be a part of an annual year-long traveling exhibition throughout Utah.

Thank you to each of these individuals and organizations for their ongoing support.

Abby Youngberg was born in Placentia, California in 2002. After moving to Salt Lake City, Utah, she began her elementary years at an art-focused school. Her love for the subject grew as she studied famous artists and the elements of art. She became even more passionate as her mom supported her art studies at home and she received instruction from teachers who pushed her artistic focus beyond standard forms.

Abby was initially drawn to fashion design and portraits. As her skills developed, her artwork evolved and started to push the boundaries of realism. She began to incorporate styles such as trompe-l’œil with abstract backgrounds, allowing the viewer to decide what the piece means for themselves. Abby has been pushed to redefine her definition of artwork. Mentors and teachers have allowed her to expand on the materials and surfaces she works by creating her own patinas, and using unconventional materials, like chocolate syrup.

Abby feels extremely blessed to have supportive family members and teachers who have helped cultivate her love for the arts. Without that extra push, her artistic endeavors would not be where they are today.

For two years Abby has excelled in the All-State High School Art Show. All four of her submitted entries over two years were accepted for display. This year, both her pieces were selected for awards by the jurors.
Bart Francis
Mountain View High School

Bart Francis has taught visual art at Mountain View High School in Utah since 2006. He has taught painting, drawing, commercial art, honors art, ceramics, and AP Studio art. He also taught drawing at a treatment facility for troubled youth. Bart graduated from Brigham Young University with his BA and MA in Art Education. He served as the President of the Utah Art Education Association, as a Utah delegate at the National Art Education Association Conference, and as President of the Commercial Art division of the Utah Association of Career and Technical Education. He currently serves on the Orem Arts Council. Being confronted with new ideas that challenge his notions of what art education can and should be has been invaluable to his own education and is something he hopes never stops.

He loves how teaching forces him out of his comfort zone in order to progress. He feels his students teach him as much as he teaches them. He is constantly learning. His greatest passion is to help his students experience the world in new ways through artistic inquiry.

When he's not teaching, Bart enjoys spending time with his wife and their four daughters, gardening, reading, and playing board games.

Callie Sweeten
Timpanogos High School

Callie Day Sweeten is a senior at Timpanogos High School in Orem, Utah where she works as an art student under the direction of Anna Davis. Her mother comes from Denmark, where her father, Soren Edsberg, and grandfather, Knud Edsberg, both worked as professional artists.

Growing up surrounded by artists in the family has only inspired her love for creating art. She was a student at the Kiser School of Art for six years, where she found her passion. She has entered many art competitions including The State Senate Art Competition and the My 529 Bookmark Competition, where she has won $2,000 in scholarships. She also won the Youth Art Month Flag Competition, where her design will be shown at the National Art Association of Education conference representing Utah.

Along with her passion for art, Callie enjoys spending time in nature, roller skating, and playing the piano. Callie plans on studying at the University of Utah this upcoming academic year, where she will pursue a career as an Art Director with a background in graphic design and painting.

Elliot

Copper Hills High School

2D Best of Show

My friend Elliot always states, “Life is good, even when it’s trash, life is good.” I feel like this is a good concept. This work is larger than what I am used to painting. It pushed me to my limits, especially using oil paints for the first time. My main focus is Elliot. He is enthusiastic and ambitious about life. The empty room represents his own potential and the blank window symbolizes his future possibilities. My goal in painting is to paint the soul.

3D Best of Show

Each person is unique. We all have traits which we value and despise. During the creation of these creatures, I wanted to infuse my valued traits into the piece. Hence the name Strong, Wise, and Gentle. Each creature is a representation of not what I think of myself, but what others say about me. While working through the creation process, I discovered that there is more to people than you would think. Making these creatures let me realize each person has their own creature within.

Whereas, both fine arts and art education are valued as important features of our children’s development and growth into well-rounded individuals;

Whereas, in addition to teaching children to appreciate fine arts and helping them to develop their artistic skills and abilities, art education in schools offers students opportunities to learn crucial work and life skills, including communication, collaboration, and critical thinking;

Whereas, we wish to recognize the Statewide Art Partnership (SWAP) and the Springville Museum of Art for sponsoring the 48th Annual Utah All-State High School Art Show, which showcases some of the finest works of visual art created by high school students in Utah; and

Whereas, we commend teachers, educational leaders, parents, and communities for their support of children who participate in fine arts programs at our schools, as well as applaud the students who submitted works of art to this year’s art exhibition;

Now, therefore, I, Gary R. Herbert, Governor of the State of Utah, do hereby declare March 2020, as Youth Art Month in Utah
