47th Annual Utah All-State High School Art Show

Statement of Purpose and History

The Annual Utah All-State High School Art Show was established by the Springville Museum of Art to honor the best high school artists in the state for their talent, creativity, and dedication. Since 1971, the show has served to educate youth and prepare students for professional roles. The show encourages young artists by providing a forum for their work, awarding outstanding talent and creativity, and fostering involvement in the arts. The exhibition is also a tribute to the dedication of professional art teachers throughout the state of Utah. We thank them for their tireless efforts.

Unique in both scope and stature, the Utah All-State High School Art

Show is one of the largest exhibitions of its kind in the nation. This year 1,016 works from 100 schools were entered. Of these entries, 337 were selected for display in the exhibition.

Works are judged both on technical quality and conceptual design by a panel of art professionals. Those works selected for Jurors' Awards represent the most skillfully executed and original pieces submitted. Congressional Awards are intended to represent life throughout Utah and demonstrate the quality of work being done across the state. These awards are selected by Utah Congressional representatives. In an effort to focus on the process of creation, students are encouraged to include source images, sketches, and artist statements about their work.

We are grateful to the many partners and sponsors who contribute to the exhibition and provide additional opportunities for these student artists. All school programs at the Springville Museum of Art are made possible with support from the Utah State Legislature through Professional Outreach Programs in the Schools (POPS), in partnership with the Utah State Board of Education. In addition, each year the Governor's Office, the Utah State House of Representatives, and the Utah State Senate honor award-winning artists on Capitol Hill, and the Governor has declared the month of March as "Utah Youth Arts Month."

In addition, one work is selected from each of Utah's Congressional Districts to hang in a national show at the Capitol Building in Washington, DC; Southwest Airlines generously provides airfare for these Congressional Award winners to attend the opening ceremonies of the art exhibit featuring their work in the nation's capital.

The David O. McKay School of Education at Brigham Young University selects works to be displayed on BYU campus. Other special awards and scholarships are given to Utah's art students. Finally, the Utah Division of Arts and Museums is a long-standing partner of this exhibition, as works are selected to be a part of an annual year-long traveling exhibition throughout Utah.

Thank you to each of these individuals and organizations for their ongoing support.

Award
Winners*OUTSTANDING STUDENT OF THE YEAR*Hongying Alana Liu
Hillcrest High School

Hongying Alana Liu (2001) was born in Sandy, Utah. She is currently a senior at Hillcrest High School and studies under Kari Bennett. Alana remembers loving to draw ever since she could hold a pencil. She especially began to fall in love with art when she started taking classes in 5th grade.

Although she is still growing and experimenting as an artist, her work aims to explore the human condition. Her interactions with the people around her, observations of daily life, and individual fears and insecurities inspire her. Some of her artistic influences include Lisa Golightly, Joanne Nam, Sainer, and John Singer Sargent. Her favorite medium to work in is oil paint and her favorite subject is the figure. Recently, her works explore personal space and the tensions that exist between finding comfort and investigating the unknown.

In college, Alana plans to study visual arts and computer science. She is currently planning to attend Yale University. She aspires to one day use her creative skills to help develop modern forms of visual communication. No matter where she ends up, art will always be involved in how she influences society and finds meaning in life.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY DAVID O. McKAY SCHOOL OF EDUCATION TEACHER OF THE YEAR

Nevaloni Pulotu Logan High School

Nevaloni Pulotu was raised on the island of Tonga, surrounded by the indigenous woodcarvings of his father. He grew to love Polynesian art in all its forms. Nevaloni began his art education at Utah State University with wood and stone and received a BFA in art and completed an MFA with an emphasis in Stone Sculpture. He is currently a teacher of Ceramics and Stone Sculpture at Logan High School. Nevaloni has been a teacher for 19 years and loves the opportunity to help students not only become better artists but better people. He has been fortunate to have great support from his administrators who have provided him with all the resources necessary to help his students be successful. His goal is to continue to improve his skills as a teacher so he can better meet the needs of his students, and prepare them for the future and post education opportunities.

Nevaloni has been married for 30 years, has 5 beautiful children, and 2 grandchildren. In his free time he loves to play pickleball with his wife, cook and share food with others, and is a big fan of sports. He loves to watch rugby. Bula!

Sean Li Diamond Ranch Academy

Sean Li was born in Hengyan, China, a city that resides on the bank of the Xiang River that is peaceful and active at the same time. Sean's father moved Sean and his sister to California when he was 8 to live with his aunt and uncle because his mother and father could no longer take care of them.

He led a happy early life and doodled a lot growing up and although he was content, his life was devoid of passion.

Very recently, Sean moved to Utah to attend Diamond Ranch Academy for his senior year of high school. He had an opportunity to participate in art class and join the Art Club. His artistic ability is a very newfound and unexpected talent. Once his ability surfaced a few months ago, he hasn't been able to stop drawing. He has found a passion he wants to pursue. Sean especially loves the details and sensitivity that can be captured with pastels and charcoals. It is his goal to learn and master new media and explore the endless boundaries art provides.

2D Best of Show

In my short art career I've always steered clear of self portraits. But something I've learned as I've been studying deeper into art is that self portraits are vital to the art community. You get to know yourself, you get to see your flaws, you let the world see your vulnerable side. It is hard to displace your face in front of your peers, it's hard to let others into your soul, but it is a choice that will benefit you for the better.

Unbreakable Bond

stone

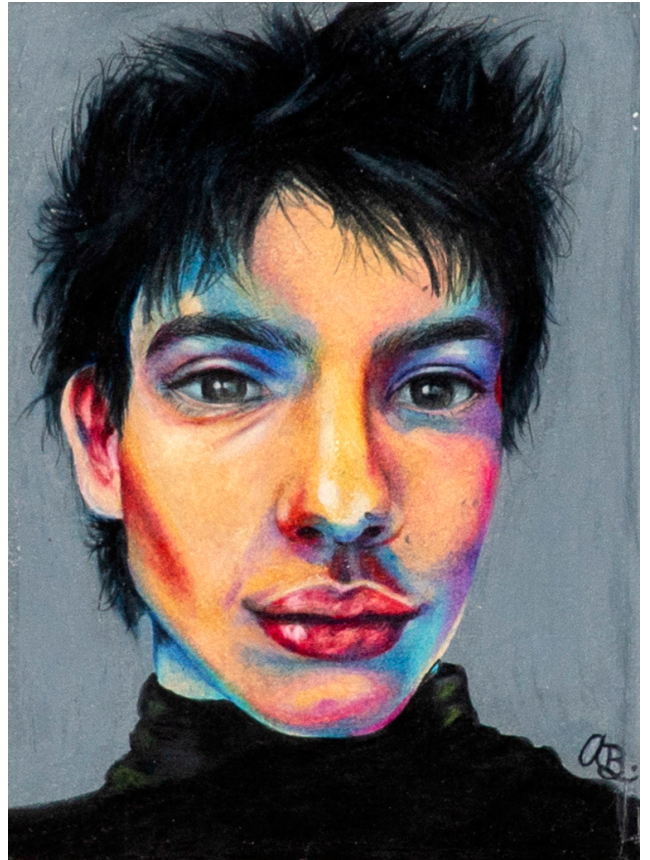

Logan High School

3D Best of Show

While I was sculpting my stone I was also building friendships and witnessing my brother get married to the woman he loves. As I was working on my stone I felt a union between my stone and life itself. I understood better the bond of marriage and friendship. I noticed in my stone the separation of the stone in the middle but I also noticed how the stone came back to itself naturally creating that unbreakable bond, very similar to marriage and the bond formed over time with the spouse. When individuals fight and separate it is only momentarily because that bond brings them back to their other half naturally. One experience I had was with a close friend we felt as if we were unbreakable but as life would have it we toiled away and separated, but near the time I was finishing my stone we were able to resolve the turmoil and come back together as friends. During that time I understood the meaning behind my stone and the fitting title of "Unbreakable Bond".

Whereas, both fine arts and art education are valued as important features of our children's development and growth into well-rounded individuals;

Whereas, in addition to teaching children to appreciate fine arts and helping them to develop their artistic skills and abilities, art education in schools offers students opportunities to learn crucial work and life skills, including communication, collaboration, and critical thinking;

Whereas, we wish to recognize the Statewide Art Partnership (SWAP) and the Springville Museum of Art for sponsoring the 47th Annual Utah All-State High School Art Show, which showcases some of the finest works of visual art created by high school students in Utah; and

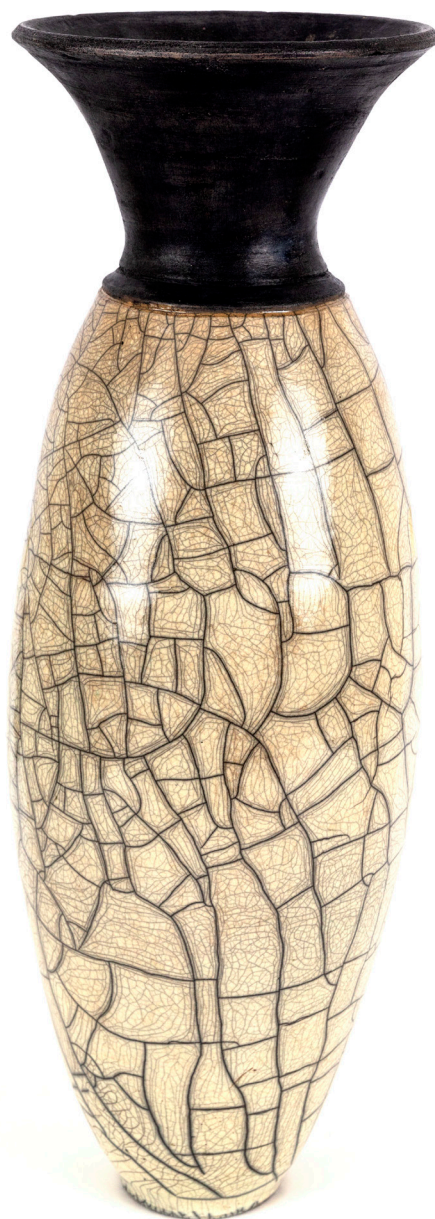

Whereas, we commend teachers, educational leaders, parents, and communities for their support of children who participate in fine arts programs at our schools, as well as applaud the students who submitted works of art to this year's art exhibition;

Now, therefore, I, Gary R. Herbert, Governor of the State of Utah, do hereby declare March 2019, as
