46th Annual Utah All-State High School Art Show

Springville Museum of Art

#smahighschoolshow
The Annual Utah All-State High School Art Show was established by the Springville Museum of Art to honor the best high school artists in the state for their talent, creativity, and dedication. Since 1971, the show has served to educate youth and prepare students for professional roles. The show encourages young artists by providing a forum for their work, awarding outstanding talent and creativity, and fostering involvement in the arts. The exhibition is also a tribute to the dedication of professional art teachers throughout the State of Utah. We thank them for their tireless efforts.

Unique in both scope and stature, the Utah All-State High School Art Show is one of the largest exhibitions of its kind in the nation. This year, 1,007 works from 96 schools were entered. Of these entries, 305 were selected for display in the exhibition.

Works are judged both on technical quality and conceptual design by a panel of art professionals. Those works selected for Jurors’ Awards represent the most skillfully executed and original pieces submitted. Congressional Awards are intended to represent life throughout Utah and demonstrate the quality of work being done across the state. These awards are selected by Utah Congressional representatives. In an effort to focus on the process of creation, students are encouraged to include source images, sketches, and artist statements about their work.

We are grateful to the many partners and sponsors who contribute to the exhibition and provide additional opportunities for these student artists. All school programs at the Springville Museum of Art are made possible with support from the Utah State Legislature through Professional Outreach Programs in the Schools (POPS), in partnership with the Utah State Board of Education. In addition, each year the Governor’s Office, the Utah State House of Representatives, and the Utah State Senate honor award-winning artists on Capitol Hill, and the Governor has declared the month of March as “Utah Youth Arts Month.”

In addition, one work is selected from each of Utah’s Congressional Districts to hang in a national show at the Capitol Building in Washington, DC; Southwest Airlines generously provides airfare for these Congressional Award winners to attend the opening ceremonies of the art exhibit featuring their work in the nation’s capital.

The David O. McKay School of Education at Brigham Young University selects works to be displayed on BYU campus. Other special awards and scholarships are given to the art students of the State of Utah. Finally, the Utah Division of Arts and Museums is a long-standing partner of this exhibition, as works are selected to be a part of an annual traveling exhibition throughout Utah.

Thank you to each of these individuals and organizations for their ongoing support.

Utah Governor Gary R. Herbert
Utah Representative Francis D. Gibson (R-Mapleton)
Utah Representative Norm Thurston (R-Provo)
Utah Senator Diedre M. Henderson (R-Spanish Fork)
Utah Senator Jim Dabakis (D-Salt Lake City)

#smahighschoolshow
Bailey Genevieve Hatcher (1999) was born in American Fork, Utah. She has been an aspiring artist since the ninth grade, where she was forced to take an art class. Since then, she has fallen in love with art, painting especially.

Her artworks aim to shed light on nihilism, repressed subconscious, raw human nature, and her personal mental feats. Her artistic influencers include figurative, oil-based artists including Benjamin Bjorklund, Emilio Villalba, Nicolas Uribe, and Henrik Uldalen. She specializes in oil painting portraits, figures, and foreboding beings. Her most recent body of work is based on previous experiences with dismissal.

Though her career as an artist is fresh and hardly explored, expectations are high. Bailey is currently a senior at Westlake High School and studies under Susan Purdy. Bailey plans to study at a top ranking fine art school. The two schools she is considering are the School of The Art Institute of Chicago (SAIC) and the Rhode Island School of Design (RISD).

Bailey aspires to open up an atelier where she will work on paintings for high-profile galleries and teach at risk children her craft. She also looks forward to running painting workshops worldwide.
Janet Fotu
Herriman High School

A typical day in Janet Fotu’s art courses include encouragement and guidance shaped by the growth mindset, a learning pedagogy that creates lifelong learners. Growth isn’t just a strong teaching tool for Janet though; it is a lifestyle. She has never stopped becoming. This is manifested in the different frontiers of her life.

In education, Janet has endorsements in art education, commercial art, multimedia, reading, and teaching English Language Learners. Her BYU Masters of Art Education and National Board Certification are also part of her foundation of growth. As a teacher, she has taught for over thirty years in junior high school, high school, and university classrooms.

Her achievements spread over decades in the forms of published academic research, research structured curriculum, and gaining both many close friendships and many more enriched students.

Two thematic lines can be drawn, connecting the dots of her vast career: Culture and Art. These are the two things she loves and shares most to her students - that they are part of a beautiful and messy, glorious whole, that perspectives are confusing, frustrating, and immensely important, and that art and the human experience connects.

The only immovable element of Janet is her love of teaching.

Rhiannon Gray
Skyridge High School

Rhiannon Gray is a senior at Skyridge High School. She was born in Portland, Oregon where she spent weekends at the coast dreaming about mermaids and afternoons in the mossy forests looking for fairies. She has been doing art since she could pick up a paintbrush and it has become a very important part of her life.

Currently, she spends most of her time at play rehearsals, doing service projects and immersing herself in academics. Her experience as an artist has covered a breadth of mediums such as welding, drafting, sculpting, painting, set designing. She was recently admitted into Carnegie Mellon University where she will study theatre production and design.

When doing art, she draws on inspiration from her childhood, nature, literature and current events and hopes to use her art to spread important messages. She is so grateful for this award and the incredible opportunity to display her artwork.

Whereas, both fine arts and art education are valued as important features of our children’s development and growth into well-rounded individuals;

Whereas, in addition to teaching children to appreciate fine arts and helping them to develop their artistic skills and abilities, art education in school offers students opportunities to learn crucial work and life skills, including communication, collaboration, and critical thinking;

Whereas, we wish to recognize the Statewide Art Partnership and the Springville Museum of Art for sponsoring the 46th annual Utah All-State High School Art Show, which showcases some of the finest works of visual art created by high school students in Utah; and

Whereas, we commend teachers, educational leaders, parents, and communities for their support of children who participate in fine arts programs at our schools, as well as applaud the students who submitted works of art to this year’s art exhibition;

Now, therefore, I, Gary R. Herbert, Governor of the State of Utah, do hereby declare March 2018, as

Youth Arts Month in Utah
